HALITOSIS

Introduction: Halitosis or bad breath is characterized by an unpleasant odor in the mouth.

It can also be described as a condition in which a person emanates an unattractive smell from their mouth.

Though a comparatively minor health problem, it can be distressing psychologically and a bit of a social handicap. It can also cause significant worry, embarrassment and some degree of anxiety.

- It's estimated that 1 in 4 people have bad breath on a regular basis.
- It's the third most common reason why people seek dental care after dental caries and gum disease.

DIAGNOSIS

- Ask a friend or relation to gauge your mouth.
- Lick wrist, leave to dry and smell it.
   Halitophobia: the fear of having bad breath.

CAUSES

- Oral Issues: 80% of what causes Halitosis is oral tissues. Ranging from bacteria building up in cavities, gum diseases, cracked or broken-down fillings to unclean dentures (artificial teeth).
- 2. DIET: High protein and low carbohydrate diet which leads to breakdown of fats producing chemicals called ketones (Ketosis). Foods like onion & garlic The broken down products are carried to the lungs which can affect the breath. Others are excess coffee, alcohol and tobacco users.
- Medical conditions
- Some medications that reduce salivary flow (xerostomia) can cause mouth odor.
- Mouth, Ear, Nose and Throat infections could cause Halitosis due to bacteriacovered deposits around tonsils and other soft tissues involved.
- Foreign body in the nasal cavity could lead to halitosis.
- Diseases such as cancers, liver failure and some metabolic diseases could cause halitosis.

TREATMENT

- Best method is to practice Good Oral Hygiene – This ensures that cavities are avoided and this also decreases the likelihood of gum diseases.
- Visit dentist for routine check-up and for scaling and polishing twice a year.
- Use a standard toothbrush and a good toothpaste with anti-bacterial agent. Occasionally use warm saline mouth wash.
- Treat any gum disease present professionally, to clear out the build-up of bacteria in pockets present.
- Treat any underlying medical condition present professionally.

COUNSELLING TIPS

Avoid commitment you cannot keep. People who promise things that they never do are like clouds and wind that bring no rain.
